We require a minimum number of bedrooms to be taken on the wedding night. From April through September there is a minimum of 20 rooms. From October through March there is a minimum of 15 rooms. With the exception of the ground floor accessible room and the family rooms, main house bedrooms must always be filled before the south wing bedrooms. For the night before a wedding, we normally require a minimum of 12 bedrooms. If your party does not occupy the minimum number of bedrooms or if any guest does not show up for a reserved room, the bride and groom (or person responsible for paying for the event) will be charged for any unoccupied rooms to the value of the full letting price of the room. Sorry, but we do not allow averaging of our published room prices. Bedroom prices are updated annually.
